Swear in old, new faces

by GLORIA DAVIS

Lakeland Newspapers

It was out with some of the old and in with some of the new as the new Antioch Village Board took over this week.

Retiring Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz swore in Mayor Robert Wilton, new trustees, Larry Hanson and Marilyn Shineflug, old timer Ron Cunningham, and the new clerk, chosen by Wilton and approved by the board, Sara Lehn.

Lehn did the same for new Trustee Ed Koziorowski, who was appointed by Wilton to take over his vacant trustee seat.

Gratitude and honors were bestowed on outgoing mayor, Ray Toft, who officially turned the mayor's gavel over to Wilton, and Sterbenz.

"Between Marilyn, Ray and I, we represent almost 80 years of village hall service," said Wilton.

The new mayor and the board also paid homage to retiring trustee Barney Barnstable, presenting him with an engraved clock for his many years of village service.

Wilton then appointed the standing committees: Don Amundsen, finance; Hanson, police fire and safety; public works, Koziorowski; utilities, Mabel Lou Weber; permits, planning and zoning, health and environment; permits, Shineflug; community action, Cunningham.

Bruce Alquist, Ted Axton, and Mary Lou Eckert were appointed to the newly formed police and fire commission with Julie Portalski to serve as secretary.

The new planning commission head is Marvin Oldenberger.

On the planning commission, for a three year term, are Steve Smouse, Ralph Antonelli and Stan Livermore.

Joe Veith and Bob Bell were appointed to the zoning board of appeals for five years.

After Al Little, citing being the head of both the Environmental Commission and the Antioch Redevelopment Commission as being too much, resigned from the redevelopment commission to be replaced by Dr. Don Skidmore.

The new mayor appointed Chuck Miller chief of police, Shirley Gutowski village treasurer, Bill Carney, fire chief, Ken Clark, village attorney, Lawrence Carstensen, building commissioner and McClure Engineering, village engineers.

With residents in the audience questioning and complaining about the fact that Traco still seemed to be in business on North Ave., Village Atty. Ken Clark said that the 90 days given Traco to move out of town would be up at the end of the month. After that the village will take them to court on a nuisance complaint.

"It's very hard to close a business," said Clark.

Wilton said one solution would be annexation of the property Traco is on which now lies outside of the village.

"If we could get the property owner north of the Traco site to annex, we could annex, said Wilton.

Sticker on beach clothes stops pupil suspension

by GLORIA DAVIS

Lakeland Newspapers

Last week there was a confrontation between the administration of Antioch Upper Grade School and a student and his ideas on proper school garb.

The student, Jake Morgan, 14, due to graduate in just a few weeks, wore a "Life is a Beach" t-shirt, along with long print shorts to school.

Principal Bill Herbst, upon sighting the logo on the t-shirt, asked Morgan to wear his shirt inside out or take it off altogether in favor of another one.

The student refused, claiming that the logo had no double meaning and should be taken at face value since it only sang the praises of the beach life.

His mother, Mary Ann Morgan, agreed with her son that he had a right to wear the outfit to school, and when he was sent home, said that his next actions on the matter were up to him.

According to Herbst, Morgan returned to school the next morning.

Herbst said Morgan and the other kids that were with him on the right to wear said clothing, (12 kids had turned their beach clothes inside out) were talked to. It was explained that more was being taught than reading and writing, such as obeying the rules.

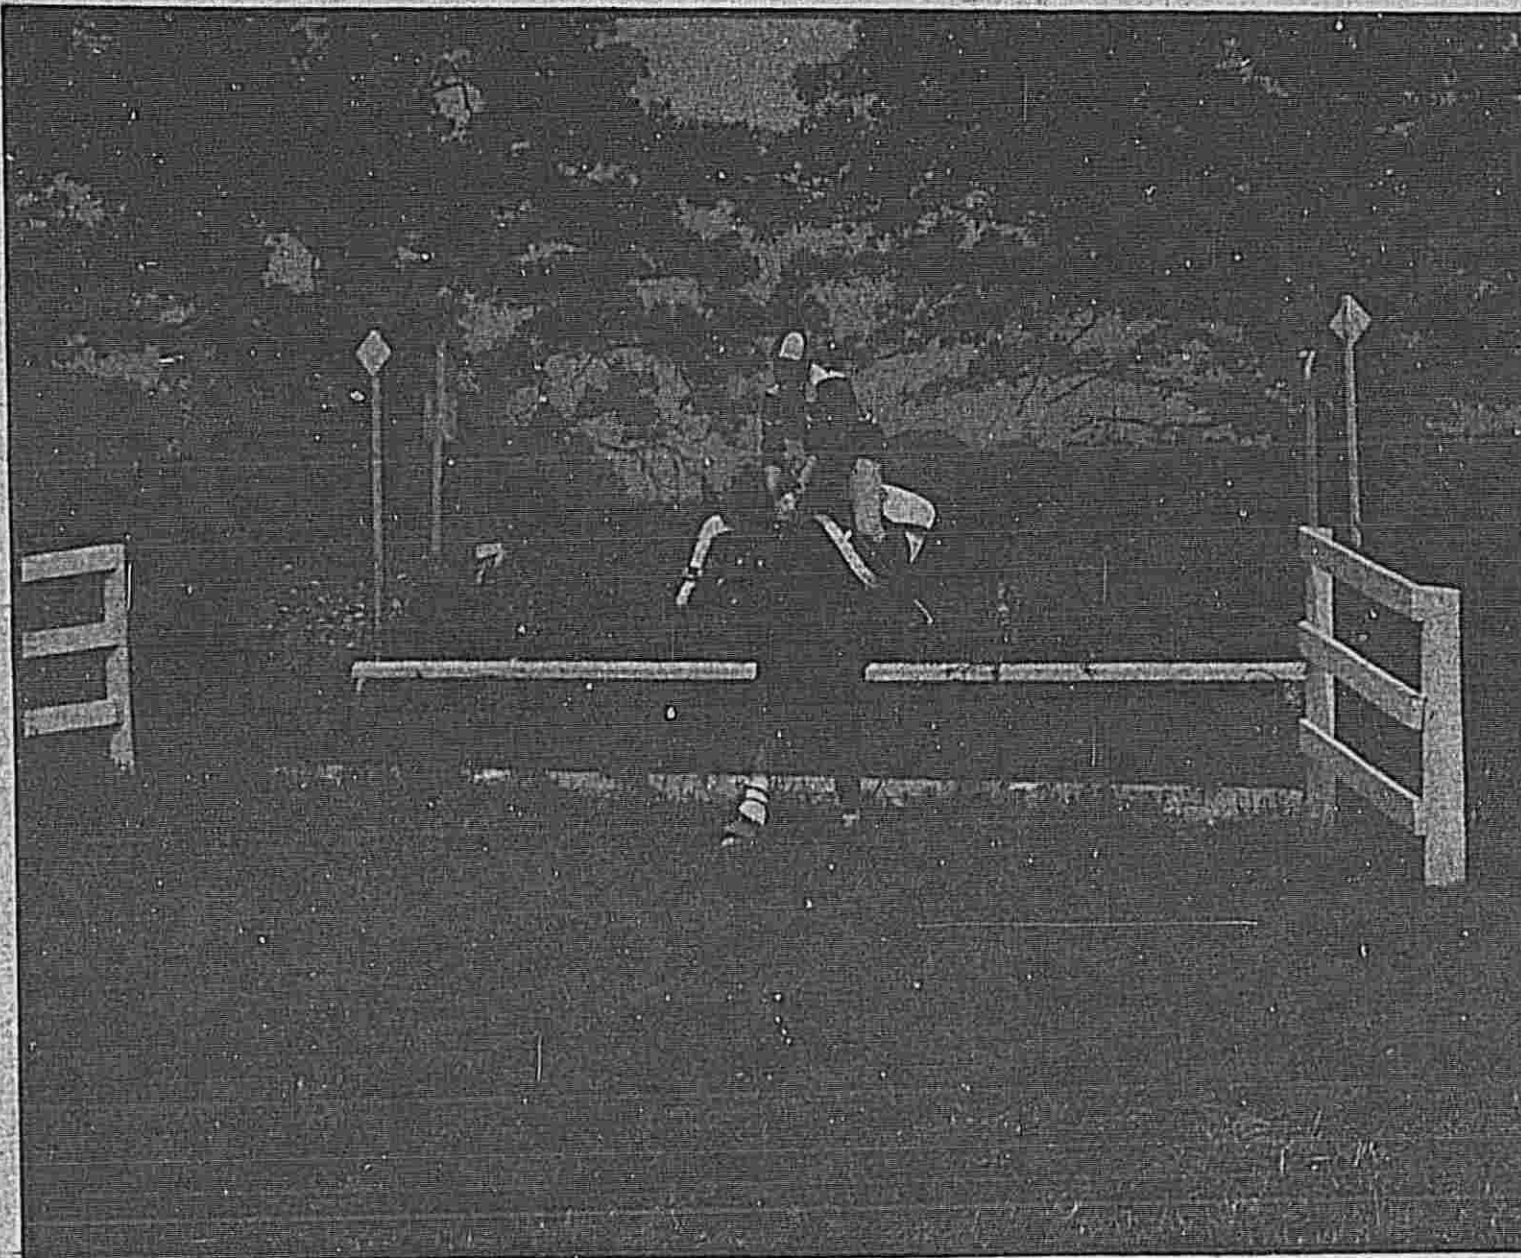

Herbst told the children that the school has rules against wearing clothing that advertise the use of drugs, alcohol, swear words or violence and death.

The kids were then given a choice of removing the clothing or staying in school with a sticker on the clothing that advertised the school's disapproval.

If the students insisted on wearing the clothing objected too without the sticker, a suspension would be enforced.

According to Herbst, the wearing of the sticker signified understanding of the school's side, but not necessary agreement with it.

Herbst said that none of the dozen students that were involved drew the suspension.

Antioch to play ball as of Sunday, May 7

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

All 38 teams of the Antioch Youth Baseball Program have been practicing when weather permits, getting ready for the 1989 season opener when Mayor Robert Wilton pitches out the first ball on Sunday, May 7.

Antioch Youth Baseball traditionally opened on Mothers' Day, but for the last few years, in deference to family celebrations, the season has begun a week before.

According to Roger Giza, president of youth baseball, the organization plans on paying tribute to both Bill Brook and Randy Miles of the State Bank of Antioch for the many years they have contributed to perpetuating kids' baseball in Antioch.

Miles and his wife Jane will open the ceremonies by leading the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

There are 535 Antioch Twp. boys and girls, from the ages of five through 16 involved in playing organized ball in Antioch during the summer.

All games are played, either on the Little League diamond next to Williams Park on Main St., or at the four fields at the Antioch Upper Grade School.

Each of the 38 teams is supervised by one manager and two coaches.

Antioch baseball players start at the T-Ball level. There are also AA teams for boys, six and seven years old, and girls, six, seven and eight years old.

Boys' AAA is for those ages eight through 10; Little League for boys, 10-11 and 12; boys senior, 13, 14; boys colt, 15, 16; girls' junior, nine - 12; girls' senior, 13-15.

The baseball program in Antioch is a seasoned and well run one with Giza, president; Ray DeMartini, vice president;

Antioch cops recover stolen car, telephone

The Antioch Police Dept. recovered a car stolen in Highland Park when an alert Antioch Policeman spotted the car in the village.

Officer Dave Walsh, while on routine patrol at Rtes. 59 and 173, recognized a car that was on the stolen car list.

He pulled the car over to find two teenage males from Chicago inside.

A check with the Highland Park Police confirmed that the car was still reported stolen.

Highland park police also told the Antioch police that another car had been broken into close to the apartment complex where the stolen car was parked.

A cellular phone had been removed from the other car.

Under questioning by the Antioch police, one of the youths admitted to stealing the phone.

The Antioch Police recovered the phone from a friend in Trevor, Wis. to whom it was given in exchange for a ride.

The friend was not charged.

The teenagers were charged with possession of a stole vehicle and remanded to Lake county juvenile authorities.

Edison installs new Grass Lake transformer

Commonwealth Edison crews completed the installation of a new electricity transformer near Grass Lake which will increase the efficiency and effectiveness of electricity transmission to Antioch and Lake Villa, primarily in the area east of Rte. 59, north and south of Townline Rd., in Antioch Twp.

Edison is investing $130,000 in this project, as part of its 1989 system-wide reliability improvement program. Edison has earmarked $2 billion for improvements in the system over the next five years. This year alone, 150 new distribution lines are scheduled to be installed, 106 miles of lines reinforced and 35 transformers installed or upgraded.

In 1988, the company installed 37 new lines and reinforced six miles of cable. Edison chose the sites for this phase of the upgrade project by evaluating present peak loads, electricity demands of building projects in progress, and anticipated future expansion.

Since Edison's generating station construction program was completed last year the company is channeling more resources into maintaining and upgrading its transmission and distribution system. While the company's system-wide reliability record already is 99.98 percent this new series of investments will allow Edison customers to benefit from even higher reliability.

by KIM BOLTON
LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS

Judy Bock's Gifted and Talented eighth-grade students at the Lake Villa Intermediate School are trying to make a difference in the world.

With a little help from Bock, the students are organizing a bike-a-thon, to be held on Saturday, May 20, to raise the awareness of extinct animals in the world and to support the endeavors of Oliver Payne, a British-born resident of Annapolis who is planning a 4,500-mile run across sub-Saharan Africa to draw attention to the dangers facing African wildlife.

Bock's desire to help Payne surfaced after studying last summer at the National Geographic Society Summer Geology Institute. Bock attended a presentation made by Payne, a writer for the Society's map making division, and has wanted to help his cause ever since.

Students of the Gifted and Talented group liked their teachers idea and telephoned Payne to make him aware of their plans to help his cause. Although he will not be starting his run until he raises $2 million to help antipoaching efforts, he told them that he could not accept monetary donations from small groups. He said he will only take objects such as camping equipment, running shoes and binoculars.

The class elected to donate the proceeds of their bike-a-thon in Payne's honor toward foundations to save the California condors and mountain gorillas in Africa.

The bike-a-thon will be held on Saturday, May 20 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The route will begin at the Intermediate School and go down McKinley Ave., turn right on Burnett Ave., left on Welden Ave., and right again on Kevin Ave. and back to the school.

Besides sponsoring the bike-a-thon at which they will have a concession stand and a prize for each participant, the students will also be holding a bake sale at the V.F.W. Memorial Day parade, and a car wash (date to be announced).

Participating in the bike-a-thon will be students from Dist. 41 schools. These students will be receiving sponsor sheets. Anyone else wishing to participate may donate $1.50 the day of the event. They do not need to find sponsors.

The rain date is June 3.

State to study GCHS, Antioch merger impact

By BECKY JOHNS
LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS

Grayslake Community High School Board of Education President Carole Dewar announced that the Antioch Community High School's board is "studying" Grayslake's proposal of consolidation.

"They have asked the state to do a demographic study of their district," Dewar stated.

The GCHS proposal could raise the student population of Grayslake, now with an enrollment of just over 700, and lower it at Antioch, which is running out of available space with an enrollment of 1,700 students. The proposal includes geographically redistributing the students in elementary school Dist. 41 in Lake Villa, in order to favor Grayslake with a higher student population.

"I see advantages and disadvantages in the proposal. I'm for it, but there is still so much to look at," stated Dewar.

She added that the Grayslake and Antioch school boards have not met to discuss consolidation at this time.

"I think there could be some significant advantages for both districts. The more students you have in a school, the more comprehensive your curriculum becomes. The taxpayers would not have to pay for a new building," GCHS Supt. Dr. Griff Powell said.

Dewar believes the consolidation of the schools would work. "We could offer more to the students in all areas. We could provide a bigger curriculum, better sports and keep the tax rate down," she said.

Dewar also stated it would be at least two years before any action would be taken.

Also at the April board meeting, Lake County Regional Supt. of Schools Sybil Yastrow discussed policy for hiring a new superintendent. Powell is resigning effective June 1 to take a position with Dist. 111 in Highland Park-Homewood.

"The most important thing is that you have to be open minded and flexible in your search. You won't find a person who has all the qualities that people want," she said.

AARP honors Youlden

On April 25, Charley Youlden received one of the 1989 National Community Service Awards from the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP). Youlden, a former president of Antioch Area Chapter 387, was selected for his outstanding volunteer contributions to the community.

He is a past president of Antioch Area Chapter 387 and has been vice president of the Antioch Senior Center for the past two years. His comment upon receiving the award was, "If you can't do a good deed, never do a bad one."

Sequoit nine looks for aggressiveness vs. 'Cats

Don't misunderstand Antioch baseball Coach Greg Decker.

He is pleased that the Sequoits shutout Warren 2-0 in a NSC battle last Thursday.

It's just that the way the Sequoits won was not especially impressive.

"I'm glad we won but in this league you have to take games from people," Decker, whose team improved to 1-7 in the NSC, said.

The Sequoits' heroes were Matt Kruczek, the team's leading hitter with a .275 batting average and Mike Bablo. The pair homered off Warren pitcher Paul Sanchez, who had been firing a no-hitter into the fifth inning. Ken Kufhuss broke up the no-hit bid with a single.

Decker knows that his team won't be able to rely on a three-hit attack to beat the likes of Libertyville. And Libertyville is Antioch's next assignment with an away morning-after-prom doubleheader May 6.

Jason Bellucci was the winning pitcher for the Sequoits, striking out five but walking four and hitting two batters.

The win, which made up for a 4-3 loss to Warren two days earlier, gave Bellucci a 2-3 record and a 3.20 earned run average. The win improved Antioch to 4-11-1.

Schedule Babe Ruth tryouts

On Sunday, May 7, Lake Region Babe Ruth will hold their try-outs for the 1989 season. The try-outs will be held at Central High School at 2 p.m. under the direction of league president Bill Price.

Age of players for the league are 13 to 18. A player must be 13 years old on or before July 31 and must not have reached his 19 birthday until Aug. 1 or after this summer.

A meeting for all players and their parents is set for 7 p.m. on Monday, May 8, at Central High School. If the try-outs are rained out this meeting will be held on Monday, May 15.

AARP honors Youlden for years of service

On April 25, Charley Youlden received one of the 1989 National Community Service Awards from the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP). Youlden, a former president of Antioch Area Chapter 387, was selected for his outstanding volunteer contributions to the community.

He is a dedicated volunteer worker at the Antioch Senior Center; he helps members of Alcoholics Anonymous with their drinking problems; visits sick people of the community at home and in hospital; drives seniors to doctor appointments, or to do their shopping; visits nursing homes, senior centers and veterans hospitals and entertains there with singing and with his yodeling, for which he is well known; he is always ready to help people in the community with work around their home.

He is a past president of Antioch Area Chapter 387 and has been vice president of the Antioch Senior Center for the past two years. His comment upon receiving the award was, "If you can't do a good deed, never do a bad one."

Village honors 'Marilyn' at Tower retirement party

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(312)395-5380

I will start my column off this week with the retirement of Marilyn Sterbenz from the village clerk's office. Marilyn served as the clerk from 1969-1989, and worked for the village four years prior to that. In honor of her outstanding service in our "hometown" for many years, this week's column will be dedicated to her.

Tim Wells, Theresa Weber, Shirley Gutowski and Patricia Sikorski were responsible for coordinating a memorable retirement party in her honor. The huge "surprise" party was held on Tuesday, April 25, in the Tower Room. About 200 guests waited anxiously for Marilyn's youngest daughter to get mom there so the festivities could begin.

The evening began with a personal poem read by her oldest daughter relating to Marilyn's earlier years and moving from the "big city" to our town after her marriage to Joe Sterbenz.

Tim Wells did not have the official power to name a street after Marilyn, but had a replica street sign made up entitled "Marilyn's Way," as a token of Marilyn's unique way of executing her duties as village clerk. Later, newly elected Mayor Bob Wilton did present her with an official street sign naming a new subdivision street "Marilyn's Court," in her honor. Marilyn also received a beautiful collector's plate designed by Pickard China with the President's pattern etched in 24-karat gold, commemorating her 24 years of service with the Village of Antioch.

All her friends and family members bought her a travel pass, which will enable Marilyn to fly to unlimited destinations for an entire year. Marilyn seemed a little confused when she received a gift certificate to the infamous "Sybaris Hotel."

She was obviously wondering when she would have time for a visit to the Sybaris with all of her extensive travel plans. However, her husband, Joe, looked extremely pleased over this particular gift. I just bet he helps arrange her travel schedule to squeeze it in.

There wasn't a dry eye in the house after Mayor Ray Toft's beautiful, touching testimonial about Marilyn's 24 years of dedicated service to the village. All of Marilyn's family and friends join in Mayor Toft's sentiments in thanking Marilyn for all she has contributed to the village since 1965. She will be missed immensely by her co-workers, but never forgotten. Marilyn, good luck to you from everyone. You are definitely a hard act to follow.

Grass Lake School

The Grass Lake School Board of Education anticipates a school board vacancy at the end of May. If you live in Grass Lake Dist. and would like to be considered for the position on the board, you may pick up an application at the school office. The deadline for completed applications is June 7. The person chosen by the board will fill the vacant seat until the November, 1989, election.

The following GLS/PTO volunteers discovered how talented they weren't after gathering at the home of Ardeen Harris to practice the "PTO Shuffle." The shuffle was scheduled to be performed as an extra entertainment "treat" for all in attendance at the PTO dinner dance. I will let you know the success or failure of the performance. Meanwhile, I'd like all my readers to know Linda Boerman, Marie Brausam, Judy Fechtner, Alice Fleming, Mary Franzen, Julie Groh, Ardeen Harris, Pam Izenstark, Darlene Olenick, Pat Santicemo and Liz Schmehl had a hard time listening to the music, moving their feet and speaking their parts all at the same time. A more uncoordinated bunch of PTO

National Community Service Award for his outstanding volunteer contributions to the community. Clara Haling, secretary of the All-Star Band and assistant secretary of AARP; Marsalla Jesse, assistant secretary of the band and secretary of AARP were also honored during National Secretary Week. Their "boss," Art Acme, president of AARP, presented them with beautiful orchid corsages.

Etc., etc., etc. . . . Hope McClement tells me nicknames never die. Hope and her husband, Doug, returned from visiting their good friends Mario and Frank Hanley of Las Vegas. Marie and Frank resided in the Antioch area 25 years before moving to Vegas last July. Hope confided that Doug's nickname is "Sonny," and 6-foot, four-inch Frank's nickname

Antioch Chamber starts plans for RV, Boat, Auto

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry held an executive board meeting at the Comfort Inn, on Tuesday.

The Chamber wants to thank all the members who participated in the Easter celebration (parade, egg hunt, coloring book distribution) and announced that it has purchased outdoor drinking fountains to be placed in three different locations in the village.

The Chamber is also grateful to Jack Thelen for overseeing the new "Welcome to Antioch" sign installations, north on Rte. 83 and west on Rte. 173.

On the Chamber's list of upcoming happenings in the village is the 885 Civic Club's carnival now being held through Sunday, May 7, in the Ben Franklin back parking lot.

The Antioch Rotary Club will be sponsoring a Walk-A-Thon on Sunday, May 21 and one of the Chamber's biggest events of the year, the RV, Boat and Auto Show, is slated to be held in the Antioch High School east parking lot, June 23-25.

Choose census group

While setting up the different committees of his new administration, Antioch Mayor Robert Wilton appointed three board members to a census committee for the upcoming 1990 census: Trustees Don Amundsen, Mabel Lou Weber and Ed Koziorowski.

Wilton is asking for four residents to volunteer for the committee.

Wilton also set committee meetings for the second and fourth Mondays, at 7 p.m., at the village hall.

Task Force

The task force which has been established by the Board of Education of Antioch High School to study the issue of student involvement with alcohol and other illegal drugs, held its second meeting at which the committee's efforts were directed at the development of a philosophical statement which will be presented to the superintendent and the board after a third meeting early this month.

Flood of confusion

A crazy quilt of duplication, overlapping jurisdictions and outright confusion characterizes the way Illinois deals with flooding problems, wetlands and dredging regulations. This left more than 250 persons attending a public information meeting on dredging at Grant High School bewildered and angry.

About the only jurisdiction present that seemed to have its act together was the four-year-old Chain O' Lakes-Fox River Water Management Agency. Chairman John Soffietti opined that the non-tax supported unit has to deal with nine other state and federal agencies to fulfill its statutory duties of managing water resources in a waterway running from Wilmot, Wisc., to Algonquin.

As an example of the confusion over who can say what about happenings on the Chain, Soffietti related an incident two years ago during a flood period when the water management agency invoked a temporary no-wake order to prevent damaging erosion to waterfront property only to be threatened with court action by the U.S. Coast Guard in Cleveland that the order was illegal.

The meeting, unfortunately, didn't shed much light. Governmental representatives spoke tentatively and seemed confused at times. The powerful Army Corps of Engineers, with its broad authority over waterways and wetlands didn't even show up.

To be sure, when Mother Nature goes on a rampage flood waters cut across all jurisdictions. But it seems that officialdom ought to be able to sort out responsibilities to the point where property owners can get a quick and clear answer to questions about flood plain building and filling wetlands.

In the absence of clear-cut jurisdictional lines and coordinated enforcement of regulations, law-abiding citizens become disenchanted and disillusioned while violators go merrily along their way, dredging or filling precious wetlands and building on designated flood plains. That ought not happen in a society where 99 percent of the citizens not only want to do the right thing, but are insistent that everyone be treated fairly and equally.

Letters To The Editor

Recruiting a puppet

Editor:

It is a sad day when two non-residents of Woodland Dist. 50, Esper Petersen and Gordon Shepherd, can spearhead a drive to defeat the tax referendum and follow it up with demands that Supt. Marlin Meyer resign. Neither man has had enough contact with Dist. 50 to have any real idea of the needs or the financial prospects of the district.

Petersen obviously is motivated solely because he has loads of taxable property in the district, and he apparently has recruited Shepherd as his spokes-puppet.

The thought that Dist. 50 should have to wait three years for Gurnee Mills tax revenues doesn't help the children who presently need and deserve a decent education.

Carl A. Weinstein
Gurnee

Bending for developers

Editor:

State Rep. Robert Churchill must take his constituents and Lake County residents for complete fools. I recently heard him on a local radio newscast trying to blame repeated school referenda defeats on the efforts to preserve some open space in Lake County. He certainly, at the very least, seems to be bending the limits of credibility in serving the interests of the developers and vested interests that fill his campaign coffers.

Let's get serious, Bob! What the voters are trying to say is, let's do your job in Springfield and provide adequate state funding levels for education. What we need is a few good "fanatics" in Springfield to act responsibly on behalf of education!

Robert Schmidt
Lake Villa

Use Christmas symbol

Editor:

It's a shame that an outsider can tell us what to do about our cross.

To solve the problem, why not have a symbol of a Christmas tree made and put it back on our water towers? The residents can have a Christmas symbol back. It wouldn't be a Christian symbol, so that atheist will leave our community alone.

The village could use the taxpayers' money on what is needed elsewhere instead of on lawyers. From what I've read, crosses have had a losing battle in the courts.

Patricia Johnson
Wauconda

Stop abortion

Editor:

The recent rhetoric surrounding the abortion issue has been outrageous. Some of it would almost be humorous if the issue was not so serious. The latest line by the pro-abortionists is that their "reproductive rights" are being taken away! What is this term reproductive rights anyway?

From the sound of it, one would almost think that people were tying down women and making them have babies. This is ridiculous! Ample birth control methods are readily available today. Even more importantly, women simply have to exercise self control. If a woman is not willing to accept the logical consequence of her actions, she should not demand an erroneous right to murder her unborn child.

Let's put "rights" in perspective. The greatest individual right is the right to life. Millions of women have been denied this primary right since 1973. I am all for women's rights - particularly the defenseless unborn woman. Let's not forget about her.

Christopher Barnes, Asst. Pastor
Evangelical Free Church, Wauconda

Proof of disrespect

Editor:

It was reported that County Board Rep. John Balen was almost "punched out" by 88-year-old Walter McGraw at the Friday April 21 meeting of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. where they voted to acquire McGraw's land.

McGraw was trying to speak to the board when Balen asked him a question. Now that particular day the sound system did not seem to be working very well and on top of that, McGraw is very hard of hearing. McGraw walked over to Balen to find out what was being said and a shouting match followed because President Anderson started pounding his gavel and shouting that McGraw was out of order. At that point, no one could hear anything.

We are appalled that such disrespect was shown to a Lake County resident.

This is a most embarrassing and ridiculous situation and it is further proof that the landowners in the county are not being given any consideration. The board is flagrantly taking over the land in the county, and some of the press is continually misrepresenting the facts.

Candice Vole

Remarkable Mike displays side seldom seen

by BILL SCHROEDER

When Mike Ditka isn't pacing the sidelines of a football game or facing a battery of television cameras with an air of belligerence, the Hall of Fame tight end exudes a down-to-earth charm and a common touch resembling the guy next door.

That's the way Iron Mike came across to more than 300 persons attending a dinner at Gurnee Holiday Inn to benefit the Keith Ryan Scholarship Fund at College of Lake County.

For a guy whose every minute of the day counts, and counts big dollars, Ditka couldn't have been more generous with his time. The Chicago Bear head coach talked about life and the need to set fulfilling goals, and answered questions for an hour. He signed autographs before, during and after dinner.

This writer enjoyed watching Ditka play. We enjoy his style of coaching. His book written after the first Bear Super Bowl was an easy-reading message, if not a literary gem. He's always quotable. Life is never dull for Mike Ditka.

This multi-talented man with the bristling mustache and fiercely erect hair style could well be embarking on a career as a philosopher and motivational speaker if he chooses to put football behind him. Quite a guy. Ditka is more Remarkable Mike than Iron Mike.

FAMILY---The role of the family, courts and doctors, so evident in the daily press today, came to light in the death of Theodora Vertelis, 101, one of Lake County's oldest residents.

In a living will, Mrs. Vertelis stipulated that no life support or extraordinary medical procedures be taken in the event of her incapacitation. Last week the long-time resident of Winchester House, Libertyville, was unable to receive food or liquids. Her daughter, Estelle Sikes, said her mother suffered, but Mrs. Vertelis' wishes were honored and aides kept her as comfortable as possible. She died in her sleep.

'VICIOUS THIEF'---A neighbor characterized John Grogin, 17, charged with the murder of an 88-year-old woman whom he and a companion are accused of beating to death for $5, as a "vicious thief, rotten to the core."

The neighbor, who declined identification for fear of reprisal, said it is surprising that Grogin's long record of vandalism and thievery never came to light sooner. "Something is radically wrong with Grogin. It's not going to be corrected by letting him go," the neighbor told this column.

Colin McRae

James Kay

by JOSEPH SOULAK

Mundelein Mayor Colin McRae has hung it up. The 12-year holder of this village's highest office retired in April. Former Trustee Marilyn Sindles is now wearing the mayor's hat.

Missing around village hall will be McRae's towering presence, his loud voice, non-stop explanations and commanding manner. For 12 years he has been Mr. Mundelein.

Although McRae is gone, he not forgotten. A street, Tullamore Ln., has been renamed McRae Ln. in his honor.

A "coming out" party was held last week for publicist Charles Johnston. Fresh off April PR victories over incumbent supervisors Norman Geary in Avon Twp. and F.T. "Mike" Graham in Libertyville Twp., Johnston is ready to test his own political wings. He will challenge Geary next year for a Dist. 4 seat on the County Board.

Everyone loves a winner, which was evident at a party last week for Johnston at Kristoff's in Round Lake Beach. State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) of the 31st Dist. sent $100. Not to be outdone, retired Waukegan Mayor Robert Sabonjian tossed in $200. Helping the campaign kitty was $500 from Molly Larson, Johnston's campaign manager.

Also there was Coroner Barbara Richardson, Rich Whitney of Sheriff Clint Grinnell's office and mayors of just about all Avon Twp. communities except Round Lake Park and Hainesville.

Campaign manager is Avon Twp. Hwy. Comm. Pat Anderson. He ran for supervisor against Geary four years ago and lost. He figures if he can't beat Geary, he'll back someone who can.

"Johnston is on a roll," said Fred Bigham, who managed Ralph Swank's upset win over Graham. He predicts this campaign will attract more than the $1, $5 and $10 contributions from those who want to see Geary retired. "Like Chicago Mayor Jane Byrne, Johnston is starting early and fast to scare off the competition. I wouldn't be surprised if Geary doesn't run. After taking it on the chin in the supervisor's race he may just decide to retire."

But don't underestimate politics. If Johnston's background becomes an issue he may need more than some of his own political PR.

Lessons of drought

Editor:

One "benefit" from the 1988 drought is the cooperative spirit between state and local government which developed out of the crisis. During the drought, the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) began tracking communities with potential water shortages. While some communities are prepared to solve such problems, others are not. This tracking process helped bring together these communities and state agencies, such as the IEPA, to develop ways to improve their water supply situation, an arrangement which could have long-lasting effects.

Another "positive" is the on-going practice of water conservation. While water is a renewable resource, it is a precious resource that should not be abused. As a direct result of the problems experienced throughout the state last summer, rural and urban communities alike have instituted water conservation practices which are directed at using only the needed amounts of water.

In an effort to conserve local water supplies, communities have limited lawn-watering and car-washing. Other communities have asked their residents to fix all leaks at faucets and toilets and run dishwashers and washing machines only with full loads—ideas which make sense in non-crisis times as well.

While the experiences of the 1988 drought were painful and the losses heavy, much was learned. State and local governments developed new ways to help farmers and communities when water supplies ran dangerously low. Most importantly, the lessons learned during the 1988 drought have better prepared the state to react to another extended drought.

Pencil LSD for children

Editor:

A form of tattoo called "Blue Star" is being sold to school children in some areas. It is a small sheet of white paper containing blue stars the size of a pencil eraser. Each star is soaked with LSD.

Each star can be removed and placed in the mouth. The LSD can also be absorbed through the skin simply by handling the paper.

There are also brightly colored paper tabs resembling postage stamps that have pictures of Superman, butterflies, clowns, Mickey Mouse, and other Disney characters on them. These stamps are packed in a red cardboard box wrapped in foil.

A red stamp, called a "Red Pyramid," and "Window Pane," which has a grid that can be cut out, are also being distributed sometimes for free to get children started.

If you or your child see any of the above, do not handle! These drugs are known to react very quickly, and some are laced with strychnine.

To help stop drugs, we must all be informed and know the symptoms and signs. A wise man once said you must know the three "Ls"—Look, Listen and Learn.

Les and Jean Heltsley

New leader of Hawthorn Woods

New Hawthorn Woods Mayor Glenn Greishaber addresses first meeting of village board last week, which was adjourned to Monday, May 8, due to lengthy agenda and two executive sessions. An overflow crowd forced the meeting to be held in the village hall upstairs annex. Greishaber and his running mates—trustees Douglas Challos, John Clery, Robert Achille and Allons Bonde—won a big victory in the April election following the board's indecisive stand on plans for construction of Rte. 53 through central Lake County. Seated at table next to the new mayor is Village Administrator Linda Ramler, at left, and two of the new trustees at right.

Politically speaking—

County Board Dist. 6. Bruce Hansen of Lake Zurich has already announced he will seek a second term next year. The Zion-Benton High School American history teacher likes "putting to work the principles I teach."

Joining him in the 1990 race will be incumbent John Reindl of rural Mundelein. Owner of Redcoat Kennels on Rte. 176, he, too, is a first time County Board member.

Like Johnston in Avon Twp., these two are making their intentions known early. They also want to scare off the competition. That includes defeated Dist. 6 County Board member Gerald Beyer of Wauconda and Ela Twp. Sup. Robert Grever (fresh off a big win over Hansen for supervisor in April). Beyer and Grever are said to be gauging the political winds.

"It's too early for me to decide," Grever said. "I must have had 1,000 people ask me who we can get to run against Hansen and get him out of office."

*****

Another person thinking wistfully of the County Board is Warren Twp. Sup. Robert Depke. He was retired from that illustrious body four years ago by the Dist. 5 team of F.T. "Mike" Graham and Carol Calabrese. It came after 16 years of wearing the dual hats of supervisor and County Board member.

Supervisor for 28 years, this makes Depke the granddaddy of this office in Lake County.

With Graham licking his wounds from an April loss as township supervisor, Depke is thinking long and hard about how to beat the man known as Mr. Open Space. "Just as Johnston can beat Geary in Avon Twp. I might just be able to do the same favor for Graham," said the man many regard as Mr. Warren Twp.

*****

Lindenhurst last week appointed a trustee replacement on the Lake County Solid Waste Planning. This body composed of delegates from most Lake County communities is looking at 21st century alternatives to today's landfills. A final recommendation is due late this summer.

Trustee Thomas Berger was named to succeed Jeff Lind as the Lindenhurst representative. "Is this a lifetime appointment?" one of his colleagues asked.

Conspicuously absent from Lake Zurich Village Board meetings since Mayor Jim Kay took office is the always present uniformed police officer. For just about as long as anyone can remember, a bored officer has sat at the front of the room through long, oftentimes boring and occasionally boisterous weekly meetings.

"This was a carry-over from the early days of the village when all department heads attended each meeting," former Mayor Henry Paulus said. "As we grew and meetings became weekly, the chief appointed one of his men to sit in. The officer's presence was reinforced by a shooting at an Iowa council meeting a few years ago. (That was before a $10,000 bullet-proof shield was installed.) There have been occasions at our own meeting where an officer has had to control things."

Kay says a police officer at council meetings is unnecessary. "I think it is more important for him to be out on the street rather than inside listening to us," the new mayor said.

*****

Lake Zurich Mayor James Kay's pay is $5,200 per year. But he's decided not to be a 10-hour a week man.

"I'll be around the village hall and on village business after my workday is finished, weekends and whenever anyone needs me," Kay said. "I've waited eight years to serve and I'm going to do a good job of it. With the time I'll be putting in my pay will be something like $1 an hour."

Group home breaks ground

Service is key to hardware business

by KIM BOLTON

LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS

Stan Livermore, owner of the True Value Hardware in Antioch, says that being service oriented is the key to his store's success.

Livermore, 32, has been the full proprietor of the hardware store since January of this year, and was a half-owner for six years. In January, he purchased his brother-in-law's share when he decided to return to a career in electrical engineering.

Not only does Livermore own his Antioch store, he is also a part-owner of the True Value in Lindenhurst.

Livermore's hardware store has been a fixture in downtown Antioch for 80 years—30 of which have been under the True Value name. In the six years Livermore and his brother-in-law were the proprietors, they were able to do major renovations, triple the amount of merchandise in the store, and take in three quarters of $1 million in business annually.

Livermore says that owning a hardware business under the True Value name helps him tremendously as True Value is the largest distributor of hardware in the United States and does $4 billion in business annually.

True Value is a buying cooperative. Member stores own the name. Livermore says this gives him tremendous buying power because, not only is the merchandise bought in extremely high quantities for the 7,000 member stores, but Livermore doesn't have to worry about hiring a buyer to deal with the many diverse lines he represents for hundreds of vendors. Instead, he can concentrate on his retail business.

Livermore also said that the coop's heavy spending on advertising has made True Value a household name. This naturally helps his business.

Livermore is very pleased with his hardware business. A graduate of Northeastern Illinois Univ., he left a career as a distribution manager for a Chicago distributor of Lawn Boy and Ariens products to "be his own boss." He said that the very service-oriented hardware business appealed to him.

One of the most important parts of being service-oriented is locating and keeping good people, according to Livermore. He has 10 employees and says he is very happy with them and with his manager, Jim Sanders, and floor managers, Wally Schroeder and Tom Rosch. They all pride themselves on the service they offer their customers.

"It's our objective to meet and greet everyone and see if we can assist them," Livermore said. He added that out of the concept to serve all of his customers' needs came his screen and window repair, pipe cutting and threading, vacuum repair and small tool rental part of the business.

Livermore and his wife, Ann, who has a masters degree in gifted education and teaches in the Gifted and Talented program at the Lake Villa Intermediate School, are very happy living in Antioch.

"We're very happy now to call Antioch home. There's a tremendous amount of pride people take in their town. It's made us very pleased as a family and a business," Livermore said.

The Livermores, who were both raised in the area, met as rivalries in high school, according to Stan. As a senior, he was the editor of his high school paper. Ann was a junior and became the editor her senior year. But, while they worked together, each had different philosophies as to how the newspaper should be run.

The Livermores continue to be active in the community. Stan is a member of the Chamber of Commerce. He is on the board of directors at the Antioch Rotary Club, and his wife is the president of the Junior Women's Club. Both are also active in Antioch's PM&L Theatre. In fact, Stan is looking forward to their next production, The Nerd, in which he is playing the part of Axel.

"Because of our involvement in the community and in this business, we plan to call Antioch home for all our lives," Livermore said.

Center helps entrepreneurs

The Small Business Development Center (SBDC) at the College of Lake County helped secure nearly $2 million in loans for area small businesses in 1988, according to SBDC Dr. Arthur Cobb.

"We've had a busy year," said Cobb. "We've seen tremendous growth in various industry sectors, but especially in the service industry."

More than 600 clients received small business consulting or assistance from the center during 1988. The center assisted with 40 new business start-ups, and figures show that SBDC involvement helped create 111 jobs and retain 122 others in the area last year. New ventures that sought SBDC assistance in 1988 include a consulting firm, a hair salon, a cookie manufacturer, a daycare center, and a number of restaurants.

"We're a valuable resource for small business owners and entrepreneurs," said Cobb. "Since the beginning of 1989, we've already consulted with 110 clients." Many services are free, with some others (such as workshops and seminars) offered for a nominal fee.

The SBDC is located in the Center for Economic Development at CLC's main campus in Grayslake. For more information about the Small Business Development Center, contact Cobb at (312)223-3633.

Check out new retirement investment vehicle

by DONALD N. CRAMPTON

Everyone needs to be informed of important developments in retirement income planning and management. Though it is not possible to deal in this limited space with all of the complex issues involved in retirement income planning, some of the unusual features offered by a new retirement income instrument can be highlighted.

It may be easiest to discuss this instrument in the context of questions typically asked by a person or couple planning for retirement. These questions include:

- Will I outlive my funds?
- Will my funds earn current interest rates?
- Will my income be protected against future inflation?
- How will my funds be taxed?

• Will I be able to leave any funds for my heirs?

To one extent or another, all of these concerns may be answered positively through the use of what is informally called a distribution annuity. This annuity is an IRS-approved program which allows the retiree to deposit or leave all or a portion of his accumulated retirement funds on account, continuing to earn tax-deferred returns at current rates.

The payouts can be structured to meet real lifetime needs, not the arbitrary limitations typically imposed by most investment vehicles. If current interest rates were to continue, for example, the retirement payments could be designed to increase in amount over most or all of the retiree's lifetime while, at the same time, assuring both lifetime income and limiting taxes to those amounts actually received.

These amounts would be available for emergencies and, in the event of death, would be payable to the retiree's heirs. In addition, future election of other forms of annuity settlements are available if income needs change or if, for some reason, continued flexibility is not necessary.

The distribution annuity is uniquely suited for the retiree who desires flexibility and compounding interest, who is concerned about leaving something for his heirs, and/or is one who wishes to schedule an increasing income flow. It will not be useful in all situations. However, alone or in connection with other investments, it has broad appeal to individuals or couples who are attempting to make rational retirement planning decisions.

Film Reviews

When a film's cast listing is headed by Kurt Russell, Kelly McGillis and Lloyd Bridges, this reviewer expected at least a good, if not great picture.

Wrong! "Winter People" is another 2 1/2 star flick that's neither good nor bad, just a bit unnecessary, not worth the $6.50 first run prices, but OK at VCR prices.

This is a sometimes brutal story about a love affair between an unwed mother who chooses to live in isolation with her child in the southern hill country and her love affair with "a passing stranger in the late 1930s"

McGillis, who has some good acting jobs to her credit, falls short of being believable in this one and her accent is atrocious.

Russell, who seemed to reach credible acting heights in "Tequila Sunset," after years of so-so parts in Disney and Goldie Hawn films, sinks back to mediocrity as the kind and loving, but a bit "dorky" stranger. His demeanor and lots of his lines belong in the '80s not the '30s.

The story about the battles between two prominent families, McGillis' and that of the father of her baby, is a predictable and threadbare one.

There are a few exciting scenes, but on the whole, this is a "ho-hummer," despite the addition of stoic and strong Lloyd Bridges, who plays McGillis' father.

Music

James O'Rielly and the Rogues will be playing their music, starting at 8 p.m., on Friday, May 5, at the Woodstock Opera House in Woodstock.

"Pinocchio" the story of a much beloved carpenter's son, a puppet, who wants to be "a real boy," can be seen on field trips to the Orchard Theatre in Skokie the entire month of May.

With Mothers' Day fast approaching, don't forget to make reservations for "the greatest brunch in the world," at the Hamilton Hotel in Itasca, just outside of Schaumburg.

For one of the nicest Mother's day gifts, check some of the better hotels for their special weekend rates and give Mom a Mother's Weekend away.

Miller reaps art excellence award

Douglas Miller, music program director of the David Adler Cultural Center (DACC) in Libertyville, has been selected by the Lake County Arts Council (LCAC) as the 1989 recipient of the Excellence in Arts Award, presented annually to an individual in recognition of the significant contributions he has made to the arts in Lake County.

The Lake County Arts Council has selected Miller as its 1989 Excellence in the Arts award recipient to honor the many contributions that he has made to the David Adler Cultural Center and to his work in the historic preservation of the folklore and folk music of Illinois.

Miller has been associated with the David Adler Cultural Center for 15 years. His longtime interest in folk music initially brought him to what was then known as the Libertyville Arts Center at the Adler House in late 1974, an involvement that led to the Open Stage programs that began in January 1975, and continue to the present time.

Open Stage offers an opportunity for informal sharing of folk songs and playing styles.

Currently open to the public 36 evenings a year, this "musical open house" has become an integral fixture of the David Adler Cultural Center.

Miller currently administers the music programs of the DACC, which includes in addition to Open Stage and barn dances, a 13-year-old concert series featuring folk

Bluegrass at Opera House

Bill Monroe and the Bluegrass Boys will be presented in concert, at 8 p.m., on Thursday and Friday evenings, May 11-12, on the stage of the Woodstock Opera House in Woodstock. Monroe, a country music legend in his own time, is known as the 'The Father of Bluegrass.' He will be accompanied by the boys in his band, Lester Flatt, Earl Scruggs, Mac Wiseman, Vassar Clements, Don Reno, Carter Stanley and Sonny Osborn.

and ethnic musicians, a children's performance series, as well as music instruction to 325 students per week.

Miller has received recognition and support for his interest in the preservation of folklore and folk music. He has worked with grants from the Illinois Arts Council, the Library of Congress and the National Endowment for the Arts to interview old-time musicians throughout Illinois to record and preserve their work. Since 1985, he has organized and participated in annual statewide conferences on folk music in Illinois.

As a performer, Miller and his wife, Bonnie, have performed throughout Illinois. The Millers have also sung on national public radio and were selected to perform at the 1984 New Orleans World Fair, representing Illinois.

Cruisers sight-see

Costa's Daphne, Lakeland Newspapers cruise ship to Alaska, take in breathless sightseeing tours that include the snowcapped mountains and glaciers of the area. Costa's Daphne is known as the cruise world's 'little jewel.'

Lakeland Alaskan Cruise accommodations are spacious

by DENNIS AND MARY O'BRIEN

Few luxury cruise ships anywhere in the world can match the space-to-passenger ratio on Costa's Daphne, the vessel chosen for Lakeland Newspapers' cruise to Alaska.

From spacious teakwood decks to the elegant Trevi Restaurant - from sports deck, gym, sauna and pool to card room, library, casino and three bars, from theater to shopping arcade, gelateria to pizzeria, there's plenty of room for making friends and having fun in the yacht-like atmosphere of a private club.

Yet there are only 208 cabins for a capacity of 420 lucky passengers. Accommodations are exceptionally roomy, 90 percent of them are outside, with wonderful views of the spectacular, ever-changing scenery that makes up Alaska's Inside Passage. All cabins have showers and bathtubs, a rare luxury on a cruise ship.

The smiling, attentive crew and staff, trained in Italy to anticipate one's every wish, are obviously anxious to please. They take pride in quickly learning everyone's name and preferences.

The Costa Cruise Line is known the world over for its cuisine - not merely for the plentitude that cruises are famous for. From breakfast in bed if one wishes, to afternoon tea, midnight buffet and cookies on the night stand, the food is lovingly prepared and elegantly presented.

There's dancing, parties, different entertainment every night. And day and night activities are served up against a background of mountains, fjords and glaciers.

with a sophisticated, accommodating attitude and a stupendous itinerary, the Lakeland Newspapers' cruise ship Daphne deserves its reputation as the cruise world's "little jewel."

Getting from the airport in a strange city

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Did you ever find yourself paying more for your cab fare from the airport to your hotel than you did for your air ticket? I've come pretty close in some cities!

You most likely searched for the lowest airfare and the best value in a hotel that suits your needs. If you were going to rent a car to get to that hotel, you probably would have looked for the car rental company offering the best deal.

Why not carry that investigation a little further if you are relying upon other means to get you from the airport?

Taking a car is the most convenient, but the most costly way of getting to your hotel. However, there are ways to save money here, too.

Many cab companies have "shared" rates. As the name implies, you may have to share your cab with others going in the same direction as yourself. Not only do you save money, but you get to meet new people! Ask at the airport information counter if such rates are available, and at which cab stand you should wait.

If you are not going with a shared rate, investigate before you leave as to what the car fare should be.

O.K., now I'm going to tell you how I get from the airport in a strange city. Most major airports offer airport shuttles to downtown hotels. No, I'm not suggesting that you try and board a crowded New York bus with your oversize suitcase! These are privately owned vans that operate between the airport and the main hotels at very reasonable rates and are equipped to handle lots of luggage. For instance, in Detroit a cab ride from the airport to downtown is about $30. Hop on Kirby Vans, with service every 30 minutes, and you pay $9.

Look into this before you leave home. Arriving at a strange airport with your hands full of luggage is not the time to look for the best deal in ground transportation.

Hospital benefit set at Hunt Club Farms

More than 50 antique dealers from across the midwest will set up their displays May 6 and 7 with the rolling landscape of Hunt Club Farms as a backdrop during a weekend show benefiting Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan.

The Hunt Club Farms Antique Show, to be held on the 28-acre Fields & Fences Equestrian Center, will also feature jumping and riding exhibitions, a food court and raffles.

Located in northern Lake County, Hunt Club Farms is a 621-acre equestrianoriented residential community of estate-sized single-family homes together with full service equestrian facilities and 14 miles of fenced trails.

"We are pleased to offer our facilities for the benefit of this outstanding Lake County institution," said Gerald Fogelson, president of the Fogelson Companies, developers of Hunt Club Farms.

"We invite everyone interested in quality antiques, as well as those who want to spend a relaxing day in the country, to stop by the show," he adds.

The antique show is being underwritten by Hunt Club Farms and Kimball Hill, Inc., developers of the adjacent residential community known as Brookside.

Dozens of local businesses have contributed to the event.

A wide variety of antiques, ranging from furniture to quilts and artwork, will be for sale. Dealers will set up booths within the indoor riding arena at Fields & Fences. The stables will be open to the public for tours.

Members of the antique show committee include Gerrie Clennon, Skokie, and Verna Bellios, Waukegan.

LaVista said local organizations have volunteered to assist in coordinating the show. The Lake County Explorer Post 66 will direct parking, while the Lake County Mounted Posse will assist with crowd control.

On both days, equestrian riding and jumping exhibitions will be performed in the outdoor rink at Fields & Fences. Riders from Fields & Fences, dressed in traditional riding habits, will perform at various intervals throughout the day.

Admission to the antique show is $4 per person, with all proceeds going to Victory Memorial Hospital. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

To reach the facility, take the Great America exit west off the Tri-State Expressway to Hunt Club Rd. and turn north one-half mile. For information, call Victory Hospital at (312)360-4319.

Opera group plans 'evening in Vienna'

At 8 p.m. on Friday, May 12, Tressa Borkon of North Barrington, president of the Barrington Chapter of Lyric Opera of Chicago, will welcome members and guests to "An Evening in Vienna With Norman Ross" at the Nona Jane and Bradford/Kroha home in Barrington Hills.

Program chairman Wanda Hollenstiner, also from North Barrington, will introduce Ross who will speak of his musical adventures during his many visits to Vienna and offer information on the operas "Die Fledermaus" and "Der Rosenkavalier," from which excerpts will be sung by performers from the Lyric Opera Center for American Artists: soprano Lisa Filetto, tenor John Keyes and baritone Joe Wiggert who will be accompanied on the piano by Donna Brunsma.

Ross is well-known in Chicagoland's classical music, art and literary circles as was his father, whose early morning radio program awakened children of the 1930s, 40s and 50s with the lovely waltz music from Tchaikovsky's "Sleeping Beauty."

Ross, founder of the Neediest Families Fund popularized by Wally Phillips and his Neediest Kids Fund on WGN radio, divides his time between Chicago and Pilot Mountain in North Carolina where he is compiling information for his book, "The Emerging Pacific Millennium" and, with an associate, runs a bed and breakfast inn. Ross is a member of the board of Lyric Opera and was chairman of its 25th anniversary committee.

Admission is $5 for adults, $4.50 for members, $3 for students and senior citizens, and free for children under age six. Tickets are available at the door the evening of the event. There are no advanced ticket sales.

Reminiscent of the Cafe Bauer, a lush dessert table of specialties from the city on the Blue Danube, Vienna, replete with coffee mit Schlag will be offered by hostess Paula Bartlett of the village, who will be assisted by Lill Krilich, Dorothy Dobrath and Shirley Richards from Lake Barrington Shores, Helen Berndtson and Shirley LeVin from Barrington Hills, Pet Wiltgen from North Barrington and Betty Brown from Elgin.

10 reasons why you should maintain and increase your newspaper advertising when business is slow.

1. Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage at the very moment when you need an edge. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.

2. In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want to be sure before they buy; they want information about products, services, prices and values. The best source is newspaper advertising. Yours—or somebody else's.

3. Maybe you figure other retailers in your line are going to cut back their advertising, so it's safe for you, too. Right? Wrong. You're in competition for the customer's dollar with very other retailer in town, no matter what he or she sells. People have only so many dollars to spend and if they don't spend them for what you sell they'll spend them for something else.

4. There are more people working now than ever before. More women working, too, adding to the family income. People still need and want goods and services and will spend for them. There is plenty of business out there. Your competitors will be bidding for their share—and yours.

5. You can't do much about most factors in the marketplace: rent, labor cost, price or merchandise, what the competition will do. But one thing you do control is your own promotion. Remember that newspaper advertising is not just a cost of doing business. It's a proven sales tool that returns many times your investment in store traffic and sales.

6. Remember how long it took you to get started? Once you build up a business, you can keep it going with a moderate, consistent advertising program. But if you cut your advertising and lose your hold on the public's awareness you'll find it's much harder to build it up again. It's sort of like starting all over.

7. Your advertising is part of your sales force. Newspaper ads help to pre-sell the customers and help you close the sale faster. What saves you time saves you money.

8. You say your customers know you and for a while at least they'll keep coming in even if you don't promote? That's partly true, but shortsighted. Remember, one out of five Americans moves every year. So there's a steady flow of your customers out of your market, and a corresponding influx of new folks who don't know you—at all. Tell them about yourself.

9. Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a business that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average.

10. Advertising is "news" — about products and services. Your customers look for this kind of news in the pages of Lakeland Newspapers. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the newspaper because it provides an immediate payoff at the cash register.

HEARTWORM

INFECTED

HEALTHY

10-14 DAYS

70-100 DAYS

Vicious cycle

The heartworm cycle, above, begins with the bite of a mosquito carrying immature heartworms. It takes in some of the larvae and when the mosquito bites again, infective larvae are deposited into the blood stream, and go to the heart. Infected heart is at right.

Lyme, heartworm diseases setting up camp in Illinois

by ROGER ROULAND
Lakeland Newspapers

Northeastern Illinois "is in the crossfire" of an apparent growing number of deer ticks which carry Lyme disease and mosquitoes known to harbor heartworm disease, according to animal health professionals.

"We've got the mosquitoes coming up from the southeast and deer ticks coming from the northwest," said Patricia Sanderson, of the Veterinary Medical Associations, based in Chicago, Rockford and Milwaukee. "Northeastern Illinois is literally caught in the crossfire."

Lyme disease is an insidious bacterial infection carried by tiny insects known as deer ticks. The ticks are the size of the head of a straight pin and in the spring are almost clear in color. They pose a serious health threat to both humans and animals from April to October.

First recognized in Lyme, Conn., Lyme disease is prevalent in New England and once thought to be restricted to that area. The disease has since been found in 42 states.

Sanderson said infected animals and insects from northern Wisconsin - including deer ticks, field mice and robins - have been slowly creeping towards Northern Illinois. The migration, along with Wisconsin visitors bringing home the ticks have increased numbers here, she said.

Deer ticks have now been discovered in Cook County Forest Preserves and the incidence of Lyme disease in Northern Illinois is expected to increase dramatically this year.

According to Sanderson, deer ticks have been found the past two years in the Rockford area, with those now moving this way.

The ticks, she said, have moved south from Kenosha County, Wis., as well as east through McHenry and Lake Counties.

Two deer captured in Lake County's Ryerson Woods Forest Preserve - which were slated to be shipped downstate to another forest preserve - were discovered to have had Lyme disease. No ticks were found on the animals, though.

According to Dr. Steven Cairo, president of the Chicago Veterinary Medical Association, there are two reasons why area residents may expect increased diagnosis of Lyme disease.

"First, infected ticks are now in the Chicago area," said Cairo, "and secondly, medical professionals are learning more about Lyme disease and are better able to recognize it."

Both Cairo and Sanderson down-played alarmist tones. "One thing we know for sure," said Cairo, "is that the earlier we can detect (Lyme disease) the better our chances of treating it successfully."

Cairo said that those who suspect their pets have been exposed to deer ticks should seek medical attention immediately.

"The acute symptoms can disappear and the disease continue to linger in the system, ultimately causing serious and permanent arthritis, heart problems, and neurological disorders in both humans and animals."

Lyme disease, though, does present difficulty in diagnosing, because it mimics other illnesses. In humans, the bite of an infected tick may result in a rash at the site of the bite, fever/flu-like symptoms or pain and swelling in the knee and other joints.

In dogs and cats, there may also be fever or pain, along with lameness which may shift from one leg to another.

Cairo said there are both remedy and precautionary measures related to Lyme disease.

Antibiotics are used to treat the disease - the early the treatment the more successful. There is also "a new type of insecticide," said Cairo. That type, he said, is called "allecethrins," and contains the natural insecticide pyrethrine, which comes from the chrysanthemum flower.

Heartworm disease can be as deceptive as Lyme disease because an infected dog may show no symptoms and suddenly die during unusual exertion or excitement.

Caused by a parasite, dogs infected with the disease may harbor worms up to 14 inches long which can cluster like spaghetti in the heart of a dog, blocking blood flow and ultimately causing death.

"The good news about heartworm disease," said

Cairo, "is that unlike Lyme disease we know how to prevent heartworm simply and inexpensively, with either daily or monthly medication."

Cairo recommended that dogs in the area be given a blood test this spring to assure they are free from heartworm disease. Along with that, he suggested dogs be given preventive medicine throughout the mosquito season.

"Just as with Lyme disease, early detection is extremely important," added Cairo. "The longer the disease is present, and the worse the condition, the less likely it is that we will be able to effect a complete cure."

Both Cairo and Sanderson said that both dogs and humans will be more susceptible to Lyme disease this spring in Wisconsin, than in Illinois.

Sanderson, though, noted she "was not telling people to stay out of the woods." She suggested precautions, such as tucking pants into socks and checking for ticks once home.

Cairo said giving a dog a bath with tick shampoo should kill the tiny insects.

Forest preserve lottery May 6

The Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. has announced that its 1989 YCC lottery drawing will be held at 9 a.m. on May 6. The drawing will be conducted at the district headquarters in Libertyville.

The YCC program is funded through donations and contributions from local business and individuals. The eight-week job opportunities for 30 Lake County high school students will begin in June. The jobs provide young men and women with opportunities to gain meaningful work experience, as well as an awareness and understanding of the natural environment of the forest preserves.

Contact the district's personnel office at (312)367-6640 for additional information and applications.

Infant diet in need of calories, high fat content

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Nutritionists and physicians that specialize in pediatrics are becoming increasingly concerned that the growing American adult preoccupation with physical fitness is making some of their children much less than physically fit.

Americans' "thin is in" byword, and the newfound concern about cholesterol levels has them putting the list of the contents of the food they eat under a magnifying glass for closer scrutiny, with anything with a high fat content falling under the skull and crossbones label.

Add to this the publicity put out by diet specialists claiming that fat cells are formed in infants that will keep the adult fighting against obesity the rest of their lives. Many parents are cutting much, if not all, of the fats out of their infants' diets.

According to Dr. Michael Puglieski, M.D., from Dept. of Pediatric

Endocrinology Metabolism and Nutrition of North Shore University Hospital, Manhasset, N.Y., "Children under two should be fat for later energy growth."

She agreed that breast feeding in the early months is recommended, but added, "Many formulas come very close, nutritionally, to mother's milk."

Nutritionally speaking

He added that "Infants need calories," thus nullifying any thought of feeding infants skim or low fat milk, low-cal margarine or puddings, etc.

Dr. Pugliesi said that a child's propensity towards being an overweight adult might be better gauged and watched from the ages six to 10.

Dr. Wendy Hozman, a Vernon Hills pediatrician differed with Dr. Pugliesi's blanket statements concerning "all infants."

Dr. Hozman claims that each child has different needs in attaining a normal growth pattern. Some are more active than others, which may create a change in their nutritional needs.

"We occasionally check their growth patterns," adding that many variables determine how much fat a child needs in his/her diet," added Dr. Hozman.

According to Dr. Pugliesi, there have been many changes in infant nutrition ideas and practices since the turn of the century.

There was a time when, if a baby seemed satisfied, many infants lived on breast milk alone until they were a year old. Then infants were allowed a little cereal, juice and pudding.

By 1930, it was decided that solid foods were needed at an earlier date for nutritional value.

By the late 1940s and 1950s, the practice of feeding an infant solid foods, or three meals a day, as soon as possible became popular.

By the 1980s, mothers who are concerned with their baby's nutrition intake are gauging an infant's readiness for solid food by "when the baby sits, they can try some solid foods."

Dr. Hozman, like many of today's baby doctors, said that demand feeding is a good course to follow.

Parents should make regular check-up trips to their pediatrician so they can be sure that their nutrition practices are contributing to their child's proper rate of growth and make diet adjustments, according to the doctor's recommendation.

208-34 OXFORD By Landmark Designs 04-23-89

While the cozy, compact Oxford was designed as a vacation cabin, it has all the amenities necessary for year-round living.

Friends, neighbors and family members will naturally gravitate to the large country kitchen, extended and brightened by a sunny breakfast nook. A built-in dishwasher, pantry, and work island/eating bar provide modern touches of efficiency and convenience.

The utility/den could be anything—a conventional den, a bedroom, a home office, a studio for an artist, a sewing and crafts room. Or, it could just be left as a catchall for storage and laundry since the washer and dryer are tucked behind folding doors at one end.

The downstairs has its own full bath. Another serves the two identical bedrooms nestled under the peaked roof upstairs.

The big bay window in the living room is a natural for a cushioned window seat, a great spot for reading and daydreaming. Wood storage areas flank both sides of the fireplace.

The Oxford's covered porch opens into a unique entryway. The ceiling slopes down into an extended, low-ceilinged cranny. Plants would do well there, bathed in natural light from the low window.

For a study plan of the Oxford (208-34), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Philosopher Ditka shares views

By STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The resume includes such accomplishments as:

- pro bowl participant, National Football League;
- winner, Super Bowl as head coach, assistant coach and player;
- the only tight end to make the Hall of Fame;
- has won five straight divisional titles;

-is the coach with the highest win percentage in the history of the Chicago Bears.

Yet, it was not Mike Ditka the football coach who addressed the throng of 315 people at the Gurnee Holiday Inn.

It was the debut, or possibly reinforcement of a different Ditka. Meet Mike Ditka, philosopher.

"I'm just a guy going through life,"

Sign here, coach

Chicago Bears Coach Mike Ditka autographs a football for a souvenir seeker. Ditka was featured speaker at second annual Keith Ryan Scholarship Fund and Sports Banquet held at Gurnee Holiday Inn. More than 300 people attended banquet to honor the late Lake County radio and television personality Ryan and hear Ditka discuss views on football and life. - Photo by Steve Peterson.

Ditka told the wowed audience.

The occasion was for the second annual Keith Ryan Memorial Scholarship Fund and Sports Dinner. Ditka was greeted with a standing ovation and while there was some football talk - someone asked about the greatest game he ever played and someone else asked about the Chicago quarterback situation, it was a more thoughtful message the coach brought to this spring night in Gurnee.

Ditka praised Ryan, the late popular Lake County radio and television personality.

"We don't pick the time and place when we go. We should take time to thank people while they're alive," the coach said.

The toughest aspect in sports, the fiery mentor said, is "severing relationships. If teams feel they are family, then they have a chance."

Ditka last year realized there are more important things than the pigskin.

"What's more important to me is my health. When it (his heart attack) happened, there was a great feeling of denial. It's a humbling experience. You find you're so vulnerable. It (health) is such a great gift," Ditka said.

"You have an obligation to be the best with your God-given talents. We all have God-given talents," Ditka said.

Ditka, who has coached the Bears since 1982, is a firm believer in the individual.

"Ultimately, it is up to you. Motivation comes from your heart. You have to want to do it," he said.

Ditka is in the process of moving from his Arbor Vista home to Bannockburn this week.

Yes, there were some football questions asked. One answer:

On last year, when the team advanced to the NFC title game: "last year was a lot more fun because nobody gave us a chance".

Lake County Vikes off to strong start

After a 15 year absence, semi-professional football is back in Lake County.

And Tim Phillips couldn't be happier.

Phillips, who is stationed at Great Lakes Naval Base, is one of five candidates hoping to be the signal caller for the Vikings in their maiden season.

Phillips played semi-pro football in South Carolina for the South Carolina Steelers and was a punter and quarterback there.

"I just do it for the enjoyment," he said.

That's the view of most of the 50 plus would be Vikings who turned out for an open tryout at All Stars Park in Park City Sunday. The Vikings are the new team in town, hoping to take over the void left when the Lake County Rifles stopped playing in the early 1970s.

Viking organizers were generally pleased with the turnout.

"The first year will be difficult because there will be no returning players," head Coach Ron Bryza said.

Bryza said he saw four or five standout players in the tryout.

"Everyone has to win a position," he said.

The head coach and former semi-pro player said that late April and early May is difficult to get prospective players to think football.

"We'll try and keep the enthusiasm up as much as we can," Bryza said.

Bryza will be assisted by Sam Toya on offense and North Chicago's Al Clark on defense.

Toya said he expects a pass-oriented attack. "It's a motion offense. People will be moving every play," he said.

The candidates could be found running 40-yard dashes, performing vertical leaps and various agility drills this bright Sunday afternoon.

The first tryout was somewhat difficult to judge because there were no separate jerseys for offense and defense.

Team officials said players will be evaluated between now and the first practice at 6:45 p.m. June 6 at North Chicago High School.

The team's first of three exhibition games is scheduled for July 16 in Park City against Park Ridge.

Cooney listens, Carmel wins No. 22 in row

Jim Cooney was told one piece of strategy by Carmel catcher Rob Garoflo.

"I told him that no one was going to hit it out today so throw strikes and you'd be OK," the catcher said.

Cooney is one junior pitcher who listens to pre-game instructions. He scattered four Notre Dame hits Monday as the unstoppable Corsairs made it 22 straight with a 3-0 East Suburban Catholic Conference win.

"I think I pitched my best so far," Cooney, a Grayslake resident, said.

Cooney was never really in trouble of losing the shutout, although the Dons did have baserunners in the first four innings.

"We had an opportunity to take advantage of their mistakes and didn't," Carmel Coach Chuck Gandolfi said.

Carmel, which travels to St. Joseph May 6, started the game with a two-run first inning.

Rick Splitt singled, stole second, went to third on a dropped third strike and scored on a sacrifice fly to give CHS all the runs it would need.

Designated hitter Eric Maloney then singled and scored on a base hit by Sean McInerney.

Carmel, who swept Marist 6-4 and 9-7 Saturday, added a run in the second. Sean Chambers reached on an error, advanced to second on a fielder's choice, moved to third on an error and scored on a single by Rick Splitt.

A Notre Dame error also blossomed into the third Carmel run in the third inning.

Dale Carlson reached on the two-base miscue and scored on a single by Maloney, who was two-for-three for the day.

Running is family effort for Grayslake's Peebles

When the fitness craze hit in the late 1970s, Carol Peebles did not have to find out about it by buying a video, an expensive workout outfit or join a health club.

All she had to do was pick up the phone and call her son Joel.

"I've been running about 10 years now. I guess with Joel being involved in running I guess I got the bug and started to do the same thing," Peebles said.

Now retired, the health "bug" has paid off for the mother of the Grayslake High track and field mentor in more ways than one.

Peebles took up running just after facing cancer surgery and now she can run for fun. And medals.

Last month, Peebles, 67, won four medals at a The Athletic Congress (TAC) event in Columbus, Ohio. She set two world records in the process. In the 400 meters she broke the world record of 145.5 held by a Canadian with a 143.9.

"When I started out I would just do a mile or two," the Fond du Lac, Wis. resident said.

And perseverance has paid off, as she was named the top runner in her age group by the TAC, the governing body of track and field.

Peebles said the numbers in her age group, 65-69, vary from race to race, meet to meet.

Peebles is not a runner who will rest on her gold medals. This summer she will be competing in a senior citizen Olympics in July in St. Louis. And then, if she qualifies, she will compete in the TAC outdoor meet in San Diego.

Does the younger Peebles ever cheer his Mom on to victory the same way he does the Rams?

"I listen to what he says. He gives me a lot of encouragement," Carol said of Joel. Joel is no 'do as I say and not as I do' mentor, either.

He will be in San Diego competing in the 30-34 age group in the masters division.

Carmel softball squad hopes wins continue

Carmel's softball team will be hoping late-season wins will carry over into Girls Catholic Athletic Conference (GCAC) tournament May 9.

The Corsairs topped St. Viator 15-5 Sunday to improve the league record to 4-7, 6-9 overall.

"We're starting to pick up some of the things that we could not pick up in just practicing," Carmel Coach Linda Jeffrey said.

Stephanie Scier was the winning pitcher for Carmel against St. Viator, striking out two and walking one batter.

Tina Rodriguez was one-for-two with two walks and Mary Foley ripped a triple.

CLC softball team wins Skyway league crown

College of Lake County's softball team had one of those good-news bad news weeks.

The Lancers, for the good news, received some needed help from Morton and won the Skyway Conference title

Lancer netmen win title

College of Lake County's men's tennis team will be shooting to finish in the top five of the state when the best junior college tennis players meet at Rock Valley on May 6.

The Lancers are coming off a title at the Skyway Conference meet at Wright in Chicago.

CLC finished with 20 points, topping Wright's 15.

"I think we have a good shot at first, second, third and sixth singles," CLC Coach Lance Lavery said of the state meet.

Lavery, in his 11th season at CLC, said there are no standout teams this year. "This year it is pretty wide-open," he said.

The Skyway Conference tangle boiled down to a dual between CLC and Wright.

Number one singles player Rich Fiocchi of Lake Forest won the title as well as being named most valuable player.

Fiocchi defeated Wright's Atilla Zin 6-0, 6-1.

Number two singles player Steve Quigley of Mundelein won his division.

Jim Carson won at number three in a three-set battle over Mike Zonarzowski of Wright. After losing the first set 6-1, Carson battled back to win the next two 7-6, 6-1.

Quigley and Fiocchi proved to be a tough combination in doubles as the duo won the number one doubles title.

Lavery said the team's overall experience helped in the league meet.

Lavery had high praise for his top singles player, who formerly terrorized North Suburban Conference foes.

"He's the best player I've ever coached," he said.

Truman finished in third place with five points. Oakton had three and McHenry, Elgin and Waubesa had zero.

with a 9-3 record.

The bad news came at the sectional tournament at Rock Valley.

It started with Coach Sue Garcia worried about having enough players and ended with the Lancers being eliminated from the sectional tourney.

The tournament had started fine for CLC, as the Lancers rallied to beat Rock Valley 6-5 Friday. But the team then fell on hard times, losing to McHenry 6-0 and then was eliminated by Harper 4-0.

"We weren't hitting the ball real well. We left too many runners on base," CLC Coach Sue Garcia said.

Kathleen Quilty was the winning pitcher in the victory over Rock Valley, striking out six and walking two in a four-hitter.

The Lancers scored the winning run in the sixth inning as Carla Davis doubled home Teri Huntington, who had singled.

CLC scored four runs in the third inning. Huntington had a two-run double in the frame.

Huntington was two-forthree, Sue Nauman was two-for-four and Debbie Bon

In the McHenry game, the Lancers were limited to three hits.

Hitting woes continued against Harper, as the Lancers had five hits.

The Lancers had closed Skyway Conference play by beating Oakton and McHenry.

CLC clubbed Oakton 21-2 and 13-3.

The McHenry wins featured a 5-4 eight inning battle.

Nauman, Jill Garross, Boness all singled for the winning run.

CLC entered the final week of the season with a 20-22 overall record.

Gahlbeck's homer lifts Skyhawks to win

Whether your team is the Chicago Cubs or the Grayslake Rams, if your offense consists of singles, it usually does not bode well for a win.

Such was the case Monday when the Rams fell to Johnsbury 6-3 in a Northwest Suburban Conference game.

"When you have four singles you will not win many games at any level," Grayslake assistant Coach Tom Wittum said.

The Cubs have also discovered the problems with being singles hitters, as they had 10 hits in a shutout at San Francisco.

Johnsbury's Bill Gahlbeck delivered the key blow. The Skyhawks were trailing 3-2 in the fifth inning when he clubbed a three-run homer.

Pitcher Mike Lewallen picked up the win for Johnsbury.

Grayslake hosts Round Lake at 4:30 p.m. May 5.

Grayslake will be going after a clean sweep of the defending NWSC champs and rivals.

The Skyhawks are also home that day, hosting Lake Zurich in a 4:30 p.m. start.

Mike Leubke and Gary Hook had singles in the frame.

Also getting safeties for the Rams were Jeremy Nakashima and Jason LaCroix.

Earlier, the Rams handed league-leading Grant its first NWSC loss of the season with a 4-3, eight inning decision. Nakashima knocked in the winning run in the extra frame.

That contest featured two pitchers who had fired no hit gems this season. Grayslake's Craig Katzenmaier and Grant's Jeff Pett performed the feats, but were scored upon early in the contest.

Soffietti tells plans of Waterway Agency

Dredging on the Chain-O-Lakes was the topic of an open forum held at Grant Community High School last week.

A crowd of over 200 people attended the event and several asked questions to a panel of agency representatives concerning dredging projects and flood control along the chain.

Sponsored by Grant Twp., the moderator of the forum was Dist. 4 Rep. Charlotte Kiesgen of Fox Lake. Sitting on the panel were: Gray Jereb from the Illinois Dept. of Transportation, Alfred Giertych from Lake County Building and Zoning, John Soffietti from the Chain O'Lakes - Fox River Waterways Management Agency, Robert Schanzle from the Illinois Dept. of Conservation, Dave Beno from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and Steve Moylan from the Lake County Health Dept.

Constance Hunt from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and Gerald Bado from U.S. Fish and Wildlife Services did not attend.

Soffietti, chairman of the Chain O'Lakes - Fox River Waterways Agency, addressed several questions dealing with containment sites, dredging projects, and future plans of the agency.

He said the agency's master plan, which has been on file with the Army Corps of Engineers for over a year, is awaiting approval.

He indicated that the agency's first priority is providing for navigation needs, while the establishment of containment sites is high on its priority list as well. He said containment sites are needed for every two miles along the chain. "We definitely need more containment sites along the chain. We just don't have any place to go with the debris."

Soffietti went on to say that the agency is seeking cooperation from lakefront property owners to conduct shoreline pavement projects.

The agency, which turned four years old May 1, will continue to stress waterways improvement with dredging and channel maintenance, he added.

Six college students will be working for the agency this summer concentrating on picking up debris from boaters, etc. Soffietti said the agency currently fills four dumpsters per week with such debris.

In response to a question about dropping the lake level so early in the fall, the chairman explained that flood control is a critical need for downstream communities as far south as Elgin. He did say, however, that the state is reevaluating its policy and that there are plans to install flood control gates at the McHenry Dam.

Residents seek advice for Howdy project

A group of adjoining lakefront property owners residing on Stanton Pt. Rd. in Fox Lake are protesting a proposed dredging project by Howdy Marine and have obtained legal counsel to try to stop it.

According to Atty. Lawrence Jay Weiner, representing the property owners, the proposed dredging site is currently an easement for a road which runs along the property lines of his clients' homes. In addition, he said if the dredging project is approved, the new channel would not have an access to Fox Lake "unless someone wants to dredge through that property as well."

"The property owners have a right to that easement. It's not Howdy's property. These residents don't want to look out their window and see a floating showroom for cabin cruisers, which is what they'll get if this project is allowed," Weiner asserted.

He continued, "The area Howdy is planning to dredge also is a natural wildlife refuge and an official wetlands site. That will be destroyed as well."

Howdy's permit for the project is currently under review by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Weiner, a Chicago-based attorney who resides in Lake County, said he and his clients will fight Howdy at every level "until we win."

In a crowd of over 200 people at last week's open forum on dredging at Grant Community High School, over half of those attending wanted to speak with Constance Hunt of the Army Corps of Engineers, who to their disappointment didn't show up at the event.

Trustee censured

LAKE ZURICH—Trustee Philip Light, who was among four village officials sworn into office in a public ceremony last Sunday, was denied voting powers by colleagues when the newly-aligned board met for the first time May 1. Light has been receiving mail and telephone calls in Florida where he is entering a new construction venture. Mayor James Kay said he rejected a deal to appoint one of Light's losing running mates in his place.

Golf center annexed

GURNEE—After developers made several adjustments, the Gurnee Village Board has agreed to annex the Gurnee Golf Center. The 18 acre six-hole golf center will be located off Greenleaf St. Park City residents had packed meetings of Gurnee Plan Commission and Gurnee Village board, stating that they felt it was not compatible with the residential neighborhood.

Smith takes over

GRAYSLAKE—Presiding at his first village board meeting, Mayor Marvin Smith forecast a low key transition to Grayslake's first new administration in 12 years. Smith is taking over for former Mayor Edwin Schroeder, who decided not to seek re-election.

Neal gets new job

LIBERTYVILLE—Paul Neal, who was defeated in his April re-election bid for mayor, has been named the first executive director of the Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency. He has been a strong advocate of a $100 million pipeline to bring Lake Michigan water to Libertyville, Grayslake and adjoining central county communities. Neal will be paid $54,000 annually. N. David Graf, Lake Bluff village president, succeeds him as chairman of the water agency board.

Casinos are wanted

WAUKEGAN—Las Vegas of the Midwest status is envisioned for this city by some aldermen and now Mayor Haig Paravonian. They want the Legislature to approve casino-type gambling. This would allow casinos in plans for a new lakefront with shops, restaurants, apartments, condominiums, theaters, beaches and boating. Some of the proceeds will benefit schools.

Traco on hold

ANTIOCH—The Antioch Village Board is still hoping to get Traco to move out of its North Ave. In a discussion at the last village board meeting, Atty. Ken Clark said that Traco has 90 days before the village enters a deposition against the chemical company and goes into legal proceedings. The 90-day deadline ends at the end of May. Neighboring residents have complained about the worsening condition of the North Ave. site, including oil drums that seem to be leaking, stacked on the property. Traco, a chemical manufacturer of cleaning solutions, suffered the loss of factory in North Chicago, when last year's explosion leveled the plant.

Fire board takeover

HAWTHORN WOODS—Two new appointees to the Lake Zurich Rural Fire Protection Dist. board and a holdover member called a special meeting for earlier this week to elect new officers and take control of the five-member body. Atty. Dennis Ryan of Libertyville, who was named the new Lake Zurich village earlier this week, was in line for appointment as fire district legal counsel. Appointments of new members, who now control the board, became effective May 1.

Graham nixed

VERNON HILLS—New Mayor Barbara Williams asked board support to oppose the appointment of Mike Graham, by County Board Chairman Norman C. Geary, as the Lake County Board representative to the Joint Action Water Agency. Williams said she is sending a letter asking that the appointment not be made. Williams gave the reason that Paul Neal was recently hired as the agency's director and that Graham and Neal do not get along.

Starkey challenged

MUNDELEIN—A suit filed by the State's Attorney's Office challenging Mundelein Trustee Richard E. Starkey's position, prevented Starkey from board participation at the first board meeting under newly-elected Mayor Marilyn Sindles. Pending a May 17 oral-argument hearing decision, the board will limit action. Sindles initiated the suit saying it was illegal for Starkey to have been part of the vote that put him in the resigned seat of Trustee Gerald Howland. Starkey, a lame-duck trustee had a few days left of his term.

Eyes appointments

FREMONT TWP.—Newly elected Supv. Barbara A. Behm is concerned over land acquisition practices of the Lake County Board, and is spurring defensive efforts to implement a township plan commission. She is taking steps to fill the five-member commission approved by the township board last year, but appointments were never made to fill those seat

Working moms leaving marks on their children

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

With one out of two marriages ending up in the divorce court last year, much blame is given to the two-paycheck families where mother is out working and not at home taking care of pre-school children or there to greet school-age children after school hours.

Child psychologists, Adolf Hitler and St. Francis have all done dissertations on the vulnerability of children before they reach school age.

The security afforded an infant when the same familiar hands and voice permeate their day to day existence has been the subject of many a child rearing article.

The infamous Hitler said, "Give me a child before he's five and he's mine forever," carrying this thought through with his Nazi Youth Corps.

St Francis raised that age to seven.

The question of the 1980's, with more than half of the pre-school population in the United States under the daily care of others than their parents, is "Who is influencing these children in their formative years?"

Is the greatest influence exercised by the myriad of "babysitters" that they spend most of their time with?

Many mothers return to the work force while their children are still infants. When they are picked up from the day nursery at 6 p.m., mother, who still faces home maintenance work in the evening, has little quality time to spend with her baby, who also goes to bed for the evening just a few hours after arriving home.

According to Dr. Yosef Hakimi of the Youth Center in Vernon Hills, the quality of time spent with children of all ages is much more important than the quantity of that time.

"It is very difficult, but there are many working parents today who are able to know and supply what their children want and need when they need it," says Dr. Hakimi, adding that there are also a lot of parents "who don't care and are more interested in what they themselves are doing."

Hakimi says that if many people are to be entrusted with a child's care, "the important thing is that they all have the same, consistent ideas of what is best for that child."

Children attending preschools are much in the same predicament, although some quality family time can be enjoyed on the weekends if the parents are home then.

Then we come to the latchkey child who is given a house key, many from the age of eight years old. They are expected to arrive home on their own safely every-day after school, admit themselves to a cold and empty house and take care of themselves for up to four hours until the parents arrive.

Statistics show that incidents of child assault and child molestation occur in the latchkey situations, which were found to be more prevalent in the urban areas.

Statistics also show that many latchkey children are involved in accidents in the home with aid reaching them at a much slower pace than it would if a parent were in the home.

According to child raising experts, the most serious effect on most latchkey children is a strong feeling of insecurity and fear that something serious will happen to them before Mom or Dad get home.

Dr. Hakimi says that a child must always have supervision and a role model to copy or they become confused.

This often shows up in adulthood in disorganization, having no sense of direction and those early childhood fears can show up in depression.

Although, when more than one child in a family come home to an empty house together, fear of being alone is less serious, yet other problems arise in these situations.

The effects of the responsibility for their younger siblings on the older children can make them either more responsible or even more resentful towards the siblings and their parents because of the constant imposition of what some consider to be adult responsibilities placed on a child.

"I hate the idea of a child watching a child, one child's mind feeding another child's mind without adult supervision," says Dr. Linnus Pecault, a child psychologist working out of the Chicago area.

Two or more children seem to get into mischief, sometimes physically harmful, when more than one child's mind is unsupervised by an adult.

Children who are not properly supervised and corrected often grow into adults that cannot face and deal with things that are unpleasant, adds Dr. Hakimi, stressing the importance of the constant presence of guidance and a role model.

To help correct this in some cases, Dr. Hakimi teaches a class on parenting. Call (312)825-3300 for more information.

Are children who are put under care outside of the family unit more rounded and more assured adults as a rule?

That depends on how hard parents work to make up for the lack of time that they themselves spend with the child.

Are children that are given responsibility for themselves and or their siblings apt to turn into more responsible adults, or will they suffer from insecurities and fears created by having too much responsibility put on their shoulders at a much too young age?

Dr. Hakimi says that too much stress can cause all sorts of childhood and adult problems.

"We go to school to learn how to be a scientist, how to be a teacher, etc., but the most important job of all, that of being a good parent, is handed to us without any kind of degree," says Dr. Hakimi.

To help correct this in some cases, Dr. Hakimi teaches a class on parenting. Call (312)825-3300 for more information.

Sewer advisory group agrees to cooperate

The Lake County Northwest Sewer Advisory Committee has agreed that it will cooperate with its governmental partners to determine whether a separate, independent agency is needed to oversee and provide sewer service to northwest Lake County residents.

Those partners mainly include Lake County, the Round Lake Sanitary Dist., the Lakes Region Sanitary Dist., the Village of Fox Lake, and various other municipalities who are members of the advisory group.

According to Dist. 4 representative and chairman of the Northwest Advisory group, Suzi Schmidt, "The board agreed that we would have to work together with the other parties in an effort to come up with the best possible solution for our sanitary problem in the northwest region. I, personally, think one governing body is a good idea. It would lighten the administration of the unit."

The formation of such sanitary district was pulled off the fast track by the Illinois Assn. of Sanitary Dist. (IASD) two weeks ago. After reviewing the legislation written by Rudy Magna, Jr., the group said it would have to oppose the project the way it was written at that time. The bill was being sponsored by State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa).

Charles Johnston, outgoing member of the Round Lake Sanitary Dist. and the main thrust behind the formation of a single governing unit, said IASD will act as a neutral party between all parties involved during hearings this summer regarding the legislation.

"I expect the hearings to be completed by Dec. 31, at which time IASD will give a full report. I will support whatever recommendation they come up with," said Johnston.

He went on to say that he didn't view IASD's initial decision to oppose the legislation as a major setback. "There were some minor loopholes in the bill regarding technical and financial language. Part of the purpose behind the upcoming hearings is to help us rework the legislation if that's the direction everyone wants to go."

Under Magna's initial legislation, the single governing unit would continue to use the Fox Lake treatment plant to provide service.

Schmidt did say, however, she was pleased that IASD pulled the legislation off the fast track because "not all of the affected parties were involved in the preparation of the bill. We know it will take cooperation from all those involved in order to get the best possible solution to our problem. There are other options out there as well."

In March, the Lake County Board voted to oppose the legislation by a 16-4-4 margin.

Chairman of the Lakes Region Sanitary Dist., Walt Uhvat, made his feelings known when he stated in last week's edition of Lakeland Newspapers that he wasn't so sure a problem even exists with the current system.

Honor nurses

Almost 1,600,000 of the nation's two million licensed registered nurses are providing nursing care in hospitals, nursing homes, private practices, and various other health care settings.

Boaters to have new regulations this year

Boaters on the Chain O' Lakes this year will have to abide by the regulations that will be strictly enforced this summer. No more slack concerning lake regulations.

The "educational mode" to inform the public of the new regulations is over, according to Sgt. David Gates, a spokesman for the Illinois Department of Conservation.

The new regulations require life preservers and registration for all watercraft. Violators will be issued tickets not just warnings.

Gates said more than 650 citations were issued in the region last season with the most frequent violations involved personal flotation devices, unsecured batteries, fire extinguishers and lights.

New and more efficient equipment will be used to improve dredging procedures. Sites to be dredged this season include, Lotus Woods, Johnsburg Bridge, Dutch Creek, Sunnyside, and a shallow hairpin curve located below the locks.

Bruce Bossow of the Chain O' Lakes, Fox River Waterway Management

Agency said there will be no wake areas below the Dam. Bossow said if the boaters are unhappy with the no-wake zones in McHenry they should bring their complaints before the WMA for review.

Birth at home or hospital Public takes new look at old question

BY IRIS MAYFIELD
Lakeland Newspapers

The age-old controversy of giving birth at home or in a hospital has taken on new considerations with today's average two-day hospital stay, and a more sophisticated approach to home delivery.

Fast to pick up this controversy's reins is Libertyville's Dr. Mayer Eisenstein. Eisenstein, 42, is medical director of Family Practice Unlimited, Homefirst Health Services, which practices home natural childbirth.

Working with a staff of 20 part-time nurses and six doctors out of five Chicago-area offices, Eisenstein limits practice to pregnant women who do not smoke, and those without drug or alcohol problems. He encourages breast feeding.

An interested family is started out with guidelines that include no restrictions on weight, but the woman is continually monitored for risk factors, which include high-blood pressure. In this event a change in plans may be required for location of delivery for the safety of mother and child.

Some of the differences a pregnant woman experiences as compared to a hospital stay are, during labor there is no prohibition on eating or drinking, nor is one required to stay in bed. Eisenstein says that walking around during labor may shorten labor by the effect of gravity, emphasizing that risks are few. The pubic hair is not shaved. After delivery mother and child are not separated.

A home delivery is attended by a doctor and a nurse which brings with them more than 30 items, including a two-hour supply of oxygen. The family is provided with a list of items to have on hand. After the birth the team remains in the home from two to ten hours, depending on the need, at which time the birth certificate and other documents are filled out. "We usually have dinner with the family," Eisenstein said.

While Dr. Eisenstein quotes his average home delivery cost at $2,000, and says a hospital birth typically costs $6,000, Condell Memorial Hospital's Administrative Coordinator of Obstetrics Nadyne Sedar said Condell's average normal hospital stay of two days is $2,968.

Sedar, a nurse in obstetrics for over 30 years, said if someone is opting for a home delivery, "I would sure have a midwife with a doctor and ambulance back-up. I really feel these are a necessity. You can't be prepared for all emergencies that happen. Pregnancies that get into the most trouble begin routinely, and I feel as well prepared as you are at home, you can't be prepared for that real emergency."

She continued, "The baby's heart rate can go down. You try giving the mother O2, or IV fluid to give the baby an adequate blood supply. If at home, you may not have oxygen or IV possibilities. It's not the high-risk case, but the normal one that goes wrong. It's the safety. I've been in obstetrics over 30 years and that's what's frightening to me, to lose one child because you did not have the proper equipment."

She said that HMO patients often go home in 24 hrs. "Some have stayed 12 hours. Private insurance companies encourage short stays also," she added.

The cost for a one-day stay for a normal delivery is $2,431. In the case of a Caesarean section, the average stay is three to four days.

Not all insurance companies have coverage for home births, Sedar said.

Dr. Eisenstein has expressed his home-birth philosophy in the book, "The Home Court Advantage," which states he is a graduate of the Univ of Ill. Medical School and one of the founding members of the American College of Home Obstetrics. The book further says that he received much of his training from the leading home birth experts in the country including the late Dr. Beatrice Tucker, Dir. of Chicago Maternity Center, whose staff delivered over 100,000 babies at home with a safety record unsurpassed in the nation.

CLC approves change in tuition policy

The College of Lake County Board of Trustees approved a change in its tuition policy for district residents who are 60 or older effective fall semester, 1989. Currently, residents 60 or older may enroll at half the current tuition and activity fee, while residents 65 and older may enroll without paying the tuition and activity fees.

The board limited these tuition provisions to the requirements of Illinois Senate Bill 338, which provides for free tuition only for those 65 or older with an annual household income of $14,000 or less.

The board also accepted the resignations of several employees. Among them were engineering, math and physical sciences division instructor Peter Wintersdorf, who retired effective Dec. 30, and Vice Pres. of Educational Affairs James Doppke, who resigned effective June 30.

The board also heard a report by Dean of Student Services Daniel Webster and Student Senate Pres. Marge Burns on student activities. Webster noted that student activities are valuable because they facilitate critical thinking and test students' values. Activities are planned by students to meet the broad range of needs and interests of the diverse CLC student population.

"Leadership opportunities help students develop their skills and learn new ones," said Burns. "Student activities have helped me gain more confidence in myself and my abilities."

In other action, the board authorized Peat, Marwick Main of Chicago to perform the audits of the college, Naval Training School, CLC Foundation, financial aid and all special state programs for fiscal year ending June 30, 1989. The board also authorized the Adult Continuing Education Div. to pursue eight grants totaling nearly $400,000 to support adult education programs such as English as a Second Language, adult basic education and GED preparation and literacy programs.
